

THE SILENTIA SCREEN SYSTEM

"A tool to help patients orient themselves."

- Nurse specialist, Intensive Care Unit, Sweden

Silentia Whiteboard

Silentia introduces a new design option that integrates whiteboard panels into the bed end mobile privacy screen. This innovation enhances communication between patients and staff, fostering a safer and more comfortable patient care environment. The mobile bed end screen is easy to clean, move, store and an essential component of the Silentia screen system. With the addition of whiteboard panels, the bed end screen offers greater versatility, significantly improving privacy, hygiene, and delivery of patient care.

Silentia Whiteboard

Whiteboard panels: Glossy, non-magnetic panels that can be written on with whiteboard markers.

Whiteboard strip: The whiteboard strip allows magnetic accessories to be attached to the screen.

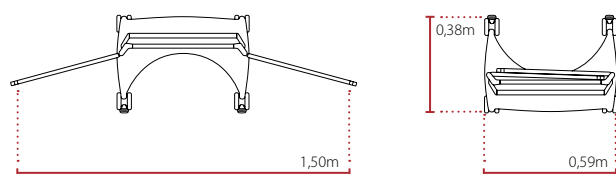

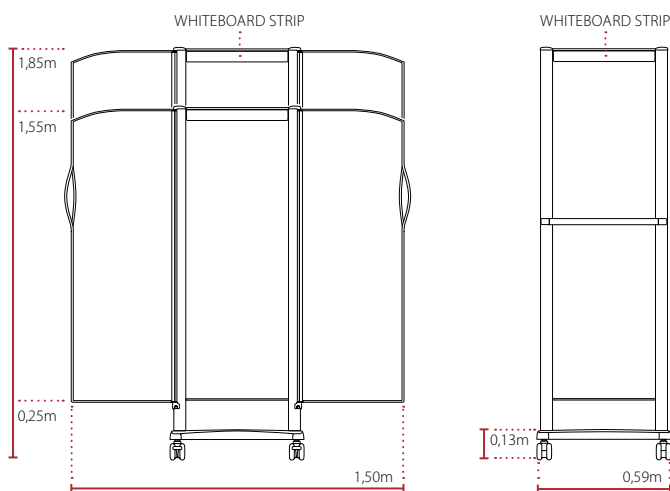

All Silentia products, including the bed end whiteboard screen, meet strict hygiene standards with surfaces that can be easily disinfected. The Silentia screen system supports patient privacy, infection control, and long-term resource efficiency.

Effective communication between patients, their families, and healthcare staff is critical in any care setting. The bed end whiteboard privacy screen is designed to address this need while simplifying patient care and enhancing the patient experience.

By combining the privacy of the bed end screen with the functionality of a writeable surface for notes, instructions, and patient information, healthcare providers can enhance the quality and delivery of care.
